

Chamber Corner by Marji Graf, Executive Director
Okemo Valley, Your place in Vermont

In June the Chamber has added Maria Tomaselli of Bovine Bookkeeping in Ludlow to the Executive Board as Treasurer. Bill Dakin moved to Secretary. We also added Stephanie Karner, owner of The Traveling Hoe Gardening in Mount Holly to the Board.

We added a monthly television outreach program (besides this column) to keep you informed of Chamber activities. The program will air on LPCtv; covering the Towns of Ludlow, Mount Holly, Plymouth and Cavendish, SAGA covering Chester, Springfield, Weathersfield, Reading and Charleston, NH; GNAT covering Manchester and Londonderry and Flood Brook Cooperative covering Weston.

The Chamber also endorses RSN television program, formerly Okemo Valley Hot Spots, now called: Okemo Valley, Your Place in Vermont. Dan Carbonara will be highlighting the businesses in our Okemo Valley.

We have put a Request for Proposal out to the public to receive proposals for our Okemo Valley Regional Guides.

The Message of the Week

Be sure and come to our B2B Showcase on July 8th at 5:30-7:30pm under the tent at the Echo Lake Inn in Plymouth. There are 33 companies from 10 towns selling their products and services. There will also be silent auction items from each vendor at their table. Many businesses have partnered with their "Let's Make A Deal" partner to offer something special. Come enjoy free food, live music by Jamie Ward and the great businesses that make up our Okemo Valley! Please come and support your neighbors!
